United Arab Emirates

From this webpage you can find more information about United Arab Emirates. I decided to choose this topic because I have lived there and I wanted to make some kind of page about it. Hope you find it interesting!

From the right side you can find the menu and there is all the information.

United Arab Emirates(UAE)

Anne - 04/02/2022 - Uncategorized - 0 Comments

Shortly said the UAE is the country in the Arabian Peninsula. It's quite small but there are approximately twice as much people living there than in Finland. The most of the people are expats and only the minority are real Emiratis. Islam is the most popular and official religion but there are quite many of them because of the varying population. The Arabic is the official language but English is used the most in daily life. The United Arab Emirates is a elective monarchy and it consists of seven emirates. One of the leaders of the emirates is a president of the country. The rulers of the emirates form the Federal Supreme Council. The country's currency is dirham (AED) and 1 euro is approximately 4 dirhams according to the current exchange rate. The UAE's climate is subtropical and it can also be called to desert climate. The climate is mostly nice, except during the summer months and it has some variety depending whether you are in the mountain area or the desert or in the city. The country's economy relies on business&finance, oil&gas, tourism and transportation. Moreover the country is evolving its policies and adopting the more western culture day by day.

Fun facts:

- Finnish driver licence can be transferred to UAE one directly and you don't have to take any driving lessons or test.
- Before 2020 you needed a actual license to purchase alcohol.
- During the Ramadan the working hours are reduced even though you are not a Muslim.
- The use the technique called cloud seeding in the hope of making the rain.
- During the summer months, which are June, July and August, it is around 40-50 Celsius degrees.
- They are planning to move to 4.5 day work week and it is happening in order to boost work life balance and productivity.

Word Press

The first version of WordPress was released in 2003. In the beginning it was used for blogs but more than 10 years ago it had took its place as the most popular CMS. The developer of WordPress is Automattic, a private company founded in 2005.

WordPress is an open source web CMS that has been licensed under GNU GPL 2 license (or later). WordPress site can deployed in following ways:

- Downloading the installation packet and installing to cloud service
- Using autoinstaller in cloud service
- Using WordPress hosting service

Because WordPress is very popular software, cloud services typically support the installation of WordPress. The requirements are PHP Interpreter, MySQL or MariaDB database and HTTPS support. Automattic, the developer of WordPress, recommends following versions:

- PHP: Version 7.4 or greater
- MySQL: Version 5.7 or greater OR MariaDB version 10.2 or greater

WordPress.org is an official web site of WordPress. It is the place for downloading installation packet, reading documentation, or using application programming interface (API).

WordPress.com is a hosting service for WordPress sites, maintained by Automattic. The service has multiple pricing plans depending on the needs of the customer.

In this course the primary way of using WordPress is local XAMPP development environment. <https://www.apachefriends.org/>

Optionally student can use WordPress hosting services. Examples of free services: <https://smartblogger.com/free-wordpress-hosting/>

Optionally student can use virtual machine. At least Azure and Heroku (free tier) are possible to take use without need of credit card. Using Azure will be taught in different course in current period.
